UCSB California Alliance for Minority Participation (CAMP)
CAMP Scholars Program
Sponsored by the Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation of the National Science Foundation

CAMP Scholars Program:
The CAMP Scholars program supports UCSB undergraduates from under-represented groups in science, technology, engineering and mathematics to successfully graduate and further their education beyond the baccalaureate.

Scholar Awards:
Scholars are eligible to apply for the following support:
- Science Textbook Scholarship
- GRE Preparation and Exam scholarship
- Graduate School Application award
- Graduate School Visit Travel award
- Travel to Conferences

In addition, Scholars receive information about research internship opportunities and are invited to professional development workshops, student study sessions, and seminars sponsored by the Materials Research Laboratory.

Student Eligibility:
This program is open to any science, engineering, or mathematics undergraduate student who meets the following requirements:

- Full-time UCSB undergraduate student
- Not already participating in an undergraduate internship program
- US citizen or permanent resident
- In good academic standing
- Member of an under-represented group: blacks/african americans, native americans/alaskans, pacific islanders, latinos and latinas

Application Process:
1. Completed application form (attached)
2. Unofficial Transcripts
3. Statement of Interest: Please submit a one-page written statement explaining why you are interested in participating in the program, your long-term goals, and how the program will assist you in accomplishing your goals.
